On His Birthday

On the 29th of August, travelled to Cambridge for 3 days
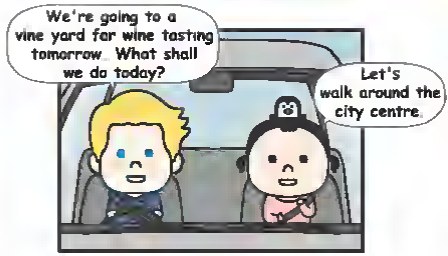
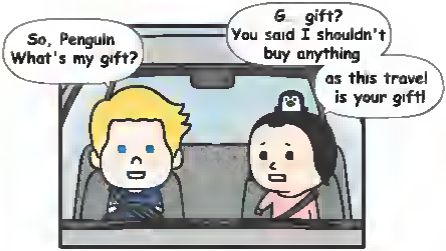
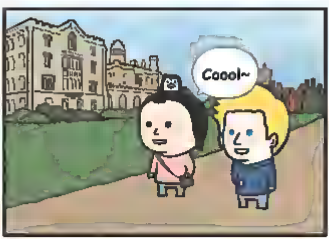
to celebrate Mev's birthday.



Because we planned to go wine tasting the following day.

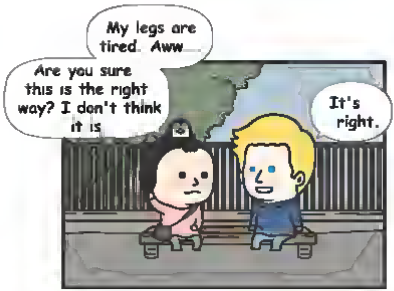


Mev was joking but I felt a bit sad.



Anyway, we arrived at Cambridge.
After we checked in our hotel
we went to the city centre.

Because it was far his birthday,
I tried to treat him as well as I could.



Although I was upset by him....

or I was irritated by him,...

... that word didn't let me be wild.

After we celebrated his birthday with a nice meal and a couple of glasses of wine,
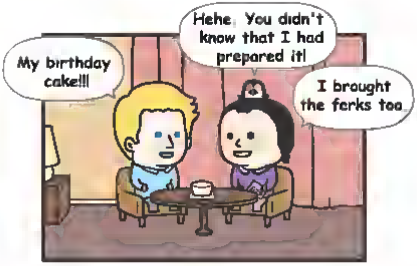
we came back to our hotel room
late in night.

Mev thought his birthday had almost ended like that but...

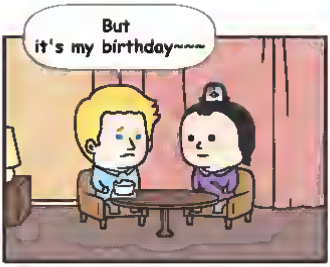
... I actually prepared a birthday cake from home secretly to surprise him.



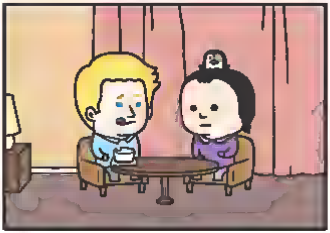
He blew the candles.

And I wanted to taste the cake too.

But Mev stopped me from tasting the cake.



But
it's my birthday~~~



Tomorrow it's your funeral.
